Before Stonewall: The Making of a Gay and Lesbian Community

Tuesday, October 2, 2007

6:30 p.m.

Youngstown State university
Kilcawley Center, Ohio Room
1 University Plaza, Youngstown

Join the ACLU of Ohio, Equality Ohio, Partners for Workplace Diversity, the Dr. James Dale Ethics Center and YSUnity for a screening of Before Stonewall, a look back on the formation of the LGBT community in America. Following the film, there will be a discussion of the LGBT community's past and what the future may hold.

Many regard New York City's Stonewall Inn as the site of gay and lesbian liberation, since it was at this bar that drag queens fought back against police June 27-28, 1969. This documentary uses extensive archival film, movie clips, and personal recollections to paint vividly the history of the LGBT experience in America and the events that sparked the Gay Liberation Movement.
